Indian Health Service

1961-1987

Notes by the Author on the Collection

The 2576 photographs in this collection represent a pictorial record of my career with the Indian Health Service, an agency of the U.S. Public Health Service, beginning in 1961 and extending to 1987. During these years my official assignments in IHS were as follows:

July 1961 to June 1963	PHS Indian Hospital, Belcourt, North Dakota
June 1963 to June 1964	PHS Alaska Native Hospital, Kanakanak, Alaska
June 1964 to August 1967	PHS Alaska Native Hospital, Bethel, Alaska
July 1968 to June 1969	IHS Headquarters, Silver Spring, Maryland
July 1969 to June 1970	Tulsa City-County Health Department, Tulsa, Oklahoma
July 1970 to August 1971	PHS Indian Hospital, Fort Defiance, Arizona
August 1971 to August 1977	PHS Alaska Native Medical Center, Anchorage, Alaska
August 1980 to July 1987	PHS Alaska Native Medical Center, Anchorage, Alaska

Although most of the photographs depict Alaska, I was stationed in other parts of the country for four years. In addition, I traveled extensively while on official duty during my whole career, and whenever possible took the occasion to visit Indian Reservations and Indian Health Service facilities around the country. Photographs from outside Alaska may all be found in the section entitled "Indian Country, USA."

The photographs in this collection were taken with three different 35mm single-lens reflex cameras, using several types of film. The rolls were processed by various companies. Digital versions of all the photographs in this collection may be found on the accompanying CDs. Although the majority are in the .tif format, a few use the .jpg format. Many of these digital photos have been cropped and digitally enhanced.

All slides are arranged chronologically in five slide boxes, but they are catalogued geographically, as follows:

- Bristol Bay, Alaska	228
- Interior of Alaska	90
- Kodiak, Aleutian and Pribilof Islands, Alaska	310
- Northern Alaska	83
- Southcentral Alaska	431
- Southeast Alaska	96
- Yukon-Kuskokwim Delta, Alaska	574
- Indian Country, USA	764

Both the original photographs and the digital versions may be used in publications without royalties, but all must be credited to the "Robert Fortune Collection" at the University of Alaska Anchorage Archives.

The Labeling System

- The first four numbers indicate the last two digits of the year and the month the picture was developed;
 - The next sequence of numbers and letters indicates the identification assigned by the film processor, including the number of the individual slide. This is followed by the phrase "35mm;"
 - The place where the photograph was taken is recorded next;
 - The final segment of the label is a brief description of the subject of the photograph.
- The slides in all the boxes are arranged by the sequence of dates.
